

CAREER PATHFINDERS

BACHELOR OF ARTS DEGREE WITH A MAJOR IN

POLITICAL SCIENCE

Overview

The study of Political Science examines power and authority at formal and informal levels – global/international, regional, national, and local. The academic discipline examines the material and non-material (historical, social, ideological, and ideational) forces that shape global/international, regional, national, and local politics. Political Science graduates enter such professional fields as public service, the legal profession, business administration, political organizations, and teaching.

“I feel I was well prepared at UWinnipeg, and my education was genuinely applicable to my career. I had the great fortune to have well-versed and intellectually rigorous professors who were accessible and knew me by name.”

- Laura Lumsden, BA (Honours) Political Science, Foreign Service Officer, posted to the Embassy of Canada in Washington, D.C. .

Job Titles

Politician (NOC 00010)
Teacher (NOC 41221)
University Professor/Academic (NOC 41200)
Lawyer (NOC 41101)
Advocate (NOC 41300)
Political Columnist (NOC 51113)
Journalist (NOC 51113)
Research Analyst
Member of Canada’s Diplomatic and Foreign Services
Government Worker (NOC 41407)

